ELECTRICAL SAFETY - Part P Flow Chart

of notifications

January 1st 2005 (but please note that any electrical work ordered before this date is exempt from Part P provided that such work is completed before 1st April 2005) No Installer Member of a Competent Person Self-Certification Scheme No Electrician capable of Yes testing and issuing an Electrical Installation Certificate under BS7671 Application for Building Regulation Approval Yes under Part P - Use System designed and installed Building Notice and pay appropriate fee to Local Authority Application for Building Regulation approval under Part P - use Building Notice and System designed and pay appropriate fee to installed Local Authority Tests carried out and Self-Certification Competent electrician, appointed by installer or applicant, carries out visual System designed inspections during and installed installation. Building Control also inspect (first Certificate given to owner fix) and sent to chosen Competent Persons Scheme Building Control carry Works complete out visual inspections of wiring (first fix) Competent electrician, appointed by installer Installation complete or applicant, tests Competent Person Scheme and tested by installer installation and notifies Local Authority certificate sent to Local Authority for checking and verification Certification forwarded to Local Yes Authority for No checking and verification Failure to issue certificate, Local Authority will have installation Building Control Acceptance tested and recover costs from Local Authority applicant, enforcement action maintains register Building Regulation may be taken under Sections

Completion Certificate

35/36 of the Building Act 1984.

No Building Regulation Completion Certificate will be issued.